A Croatian Gem: The Island of Rab

Called "one of the most enticing islands in the Adriatic" by Lonely Planet Guides, the island of Rab is located in the center of the Kvarner Island group in Croatia. Long popular with Europeans, its magic has yet to be discovered by most Americans.

The perfectly preserved medieval Rab town is a step back in time. Breathe in the history as you roam among 2,000 year old stone churches, monasteries and homes, strolling down Rab's labyrinth streets, too narrow for cars. In the evenings the town's famous four medieval towers dot the skyline, glowing ethereally in the moonlight.

Your enjoyment of the culture and history of Rab will be enhanced by the warm dry climate and natural sights of the Mediterranean. Enjoy the peacefulness of crystal clear sea, soft sandy beaches, striking rocky coastline, mountains, and serene pine woods. Balance your lazy seaside days with scuba diving, snorkeling, boating, bike riding and mountain hikes - being sure to climb to Rab's highest point, Kamenjak, for a breathtaking view. Dine on some of the planet's freshest seafood while the scents of rosemary and lavender drift in the air. Complete your meal with delicious Rapska

Torta, a legendary cake baked on the island for over 300 years from a closely guarded recipe passed down within island families. After dinner, catch a movie in an ancient open amphitheater under the stars, then go to laidback Banova Vila beach bar for a drink by the sea. If you're ready to party, head over to Santos, a popular nightclub on the beach at the old ferry terminal in Pudarica. Modesto Lomba presenta exquisito libro

España vio nacer a genios como Picasso y Salvador Dalí, sin embargo, los genios de la moda tienen su mérito propio, por lo que un libro conjuga la belleza singular de este género en el país ibérico. Geografía de la Moda Española repasa la carrera artística de 28 modistos españoles incluyendo Agatha Ruiz de la Prada, Modesto Lomba, Vitorio & Lucchino, entre otros.

Tomando en consideración la importancia que es establecer presencia en Nueva York, Modesto Lomba, Presidente de ACME, Asociación de Creadores de Moda en España, celebró el lanzamiento del ultra lujoso libro en el Celeste Bartos Forum en la Biblioteca Pública de Nueva York en la quinta avenida. Entre los presentes estuvieron la diseñadora venezolana Carolina Herrera, Fern Mallis de IMG, organizadores de la Semana de la Moda en Nueva York, el diseñador español Davidelfin, Rodner Figueroa, Lucia Cordeiro, Directora Ejecutiva de ACME, entre otros. Lomba quien creó la marca Devota & Lomba a mediados de los 80 ha trabajado arduamente para que la asociación resuene en este hemisferio y le dedique gran tiempo a los creadores españoles que cada día tienen más importancia a nivel global.

PAOLA

TURBAY,

beautiful and adventurous

by Rebeca Herrero

What's your favorite spot in the planet?

The Sierra Nevada in Santa Marta, Colombia. Highest mountain next to a sea, source of 36 rivers that reach the Caribbean after passing through diverse nature and Kogui tribes.

What are your best tips for traveling these days?

I love miles! Try to fly with the same airline so you can earn miles. Use a credit card that will give you miles for each purchase. Put these miles together and you have a nice status with an airline (gold or platinum).

When you fly, what's your ritual to prepare a trip?

I'm a last minute person so I really don't have that ritual. I get on a plane just like catching a cab. Passports, credit card and one suitcase smartly packed.

What's your favorite weather like and where...

California has the best weather in the world! Not too hot, not too cold. Always sunny and no humidity.

Beauty tips for women who like adventure traveling

Always moisturize skin and drink water during a flight to avoid dehydration. Leave your make-up home and give your skin a vacation too.

Tell us about the place you live...why do you love it?

California is an amazing state! There's always somewhere to go. Adventure in Yosemite or Mammoth, clear waters at Catalina Island, wine tasting in Napa Valley or dune buggy rides in Palm Springs.

Places and hot spots for tourists that visit your hometown

My hometown is Colombia. A beautiful and undiscovered country thanks to bad press that has created a certain fear when it comes to visiting. But people that go there find a completely different scene and realize it's a country worth exploring and revisiting. A destination they will highly recommend. Cartagena, a colonial fortress, is the "it" place is South America. The coffee region has traditional estates "haciendas" where you can stay while you horseback ride through the coffee plantations. Bogota is a cosmopolitan city with great night life, art and culture. The Amazons, Guajira... So many places to see... So little time.

Best restaurants

Apicius, Paris, Comme ca, Los Angeles, Gay Lords, Bahamas
Andres Carne de Res, Chia, Colombia
Oyster Bar, Grand Central Station, NY
Yu n Mi, Los Angeles, La Vitrola, Cartagena, Colombia
New Orleans, Peru and India: Best Food in the world
Five Guys Hamburgers Anywhere!

Best nightlife

La Esquina, NY, Andres Carne de Res, Chia, Colombia and Edison, in Los Angeles.

Where to unwind for cocktails?

Any place with good music and a good Lychee Martini. Kastuya has the best one! They add a twist of lime.

How to get rid of stress?

I live with it. It can be good to keep you going if you know how to handle it .
